CALLING ON ANY HANDY MEN OR GENERAL CONTRACTORS WITH A BIG HEART!

This is a desperate appeal to a compassionate handy man or general contractor to help us finish our home so that we can move into our home in time for Christmas

We contracted Ronald James Catillo to build our Tiny House "Casa Alia" with delivery time in Sept 2016. In June my husband and I had to go out of town for a month so we ended up paying ahead one stage without going through our own progress inspection checkpoint. Three months later the contractor suddenly said he underestimated the cost of the project.

The completion date moved several times from Sept 30 to Dec 10. Many miscalculations, more insulting tantrums, stressful scares and uninformed delays. He finally delivered the tiny home to our site but 60% complete and not currently liveable. There was some damage incurred to the tiny home and the landscaped property. The builder still has some of our supplies and materials at his place in Chilliwack. We are in debt, incurred additional living costs and are pretty much homeless.

He had his last tantrum where he quit on us!
